

Niloufer Tamboly is a risk management professional at Verizon. She has 27 years of experience in information security, risk assessment and remediation, establishing her as a leader in cybersecurity and risk quantification. She holds an MBA in Security Management with certifications in IT Security (CISSP, CCSP), Risk (OPEN Fair), Privacy (CDPSE), Audit (CISA, CIA), and Fraud (CFE). A licensed CPA and Chartered Global Management Accountant, Niloufer has authored two patents for visual password systems and wireless technology.

She teaches part -time at Rutgers University and is a doctoral candidate researching the factors that impact cybersecurity incident severity..